

CLIENT EXPERIENCE

WHAT

HR

Our client in the chemical industry was looking for a reliable and trustworthy partner to take on the support of their legacy HR applications across a range of technologies.

Itecor was able to meet this challenge and provide a cost effective service with the right combination of local skills for the governance and near-shore operational support from Skopje.

The proximity to our client is the key to understand the complexity of their IT system and make sure we have the right solution.
