

CLIENT EXPERIENCE

Aligning IT with the needs of a Social Insurance Office

This director of this office had the feeling that IT was slowly becoming unaligned with the business needs, but didn't exactly where, or how. We interviewed key stakeholders both from IT and the business, assessed the maturity of the organization as well as its processes, and identified a clear lack of leadership. We then proceeded to help building a 5 year strategic roadmap, established a roles and regular communication between IT and its board, and proposed quick wins for improving the necessary processes.
